A Note from Dean McBride:

The number of fellowship recipients increased by 19.5%, and we are pleased to celebrate this selection of recent accomplishments and collaboration and consultation in the work of TGS.

In order to continue expanding opportunities for meaningful community service, the Dean. Over the coming year, TGS will be adding more such forums in order to collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s 2014 Strategic Plan Update.

Diversity

Laying a Foundation for Inclusive Excellence

The number of fellowship recipients increased by 19.5%, and we are pleased to celebrate this selection of recent accomplishments and collaboration and consultation in the work of TGS.

In order to continue expanding opportunities for meaningful community service, the Dean. Over the coming year, TGS will be adding more such forums in order to collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s 2014 Strategic Plan Update.

Laying a Foundation for Inclusive Excellence

The number of fellowship recipients increased by 19.5%, and we are pleased to celebrate this selection of recent accomplishments and collaboration and consultation in the work of TGS.

In order to continue expanding opportunities for meaningful community service, the Dean. Over the coming year, TGS will be adding more such forums in order to collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

Diversity

Laying a Foundation for Inclusive Excellence

The number of fellowship recipients increased by 19.5%, and we are pleased to celebrate this selection of recent accomplishments and collaboration and consultation in the work of TGS.

In order to continue expanding opportunities for meaningful community service, the Dean. Over the coming year, TGS will be adding more such forums in order to collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.

In this first annual update we share how we collaborate to support the University’s strategic plan, including initiatives in the areas of diversity and inclusion, and in the areas of graduate and postdoctoral populations in these key areas.