Postdoctoral Position in Neurological Surgery Lab | Dr. Saratsis Location: Chicago, IL

Position Description:

The Department of Neurological Surgery, Northwestern University is seeking an outstanding Post-Doctoral Fellow for our basic and translational studies of malignant pediatric brain tumors, with a focus on epigenetic mechanisms of gene expression and tumor formation.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in cell or molecular biology, biochemistry or related fields is required. Experience working with next-generation sequencing, tumor cells lines, animal models and animal imaging techniques is a preferred. The applicant must be well-organized, able to design and conduct experiments, prepare and present their work at scientific meetings, write scientific manuscripts, and speak in fluent English. Applicant should reside currently in the United States.

Interested, well-motivated applicants who currently reside in the United States are encouraged to contact Dr. Saratsis, at amanda.saratsis@northwestern.edu. You must attach electronic copies of a curriculum vitae, a short summary of research experience, copies of any relevant publications, and the names and contact information for at least 3 professional references.

Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States.