Social Security Number (SSN)

An official overview of this topic can be found at http://www.ssa.gov/

Specific information for Chicago can be found at http://www.ssa.gov/chicago/

Detailed information regarding the requirements and how to apply for a SSN can be found at the homepage of the International Office:

NOTE: In order to apply for a SSN You have to be in the U.S. for at least 10 days and your SEVIS records have to be validated

Q: What is a social security number (SSN)?

A: The SSN verifies your identity. All information (bank, health insurance, salary etc.) is connected to your SSN. NEVER EVER send it out per email or give it to random people.

→ Read here about Identity Theft and why keeping your SSN confidential is so important!!

Q: Where is the nearest social security office?

- A1: Evanston: 2116 Green Bay Rd Evanston
- A2: Chicago: 77 West Jackson Blvd, Suite 300, Chicago, IL 60604

→ Alternative: Social security office locator: https://secure.ssa.gov/ICON/main.jsp

Q: How much time shall I schedule for a visit there?

A: 1-3 hours

IMPORTANT: Ask the official for a receipt!!! It will prove that you already applied just in case something goes wrong.

Q: How long does it take until I get my SSN?

A: 1-2 weeks, if not, you have to call. In this situation you will need the receipt

Northwestern WildCard (Northwestern University ID)

A wildcard card is the official Northwestern photo identification card, can allow building access, and is essential for travel on University transportation.

Learn how to get your WildCard: http://www.northwestern.edu/uservices/wildcard/get_a_card/
Also check out the advantages you get with the Northwestern University Wildcard (i.e. Gym discounts):

State ID

Please see the following link from the International Office for more information on State ID’s → Note the “When to Apply” box!!

  http://www.northwestern.edu/international/living-working/taxes-and-legal-matters/drivers-license-or-state-id.html

Q: What do I need a state ID for?

A: It helps to prove your identity (and residency) when banking, traveling nationally or other situations (i.e. buying alcohol/liquor).

NOTE: You need a Social Security Number to fill out this application and you must wait 4 weeks after your DS-2019 start date to apply for an Illinois State ID.

NOTE: An American Driver’s license can be used as State ID. You do not need both.
For more information on obtaining a Driver’s license refer to Section Personal transportation

Banks/Finances

Please note that Northwestern University and NUPF doesn’t endorse any single bank, financial product or resource.

Banks

Q: Are there banks affiliated with Northwestern university?

A1: Yes. USbank.
  http://www.northwestern.edu/norris/services/us-bank/index.html

A2: You can also link your WildCard to your bank account and use it like a debit card

Q: Do I need a SSN for opening a bank account?

A: No, passport is enough but you want and have to provide it as soon as you receive it. Your credit history is attached to your SSN.
Q: Is there any bank that has a collaborating bank in other countries?
(e.g. no fees for international wires or receiving money from a foreign bank account)

A1: That can be the case, but not every bank. Check carefully!!!
Citybank for example is represented in many other countries. If you have a Citybank account in your home country, ask there and ask Citybank here whether they will charge you.

A2: A bank for example that is widely distributed through the US is Bank of America

A3: There is also a State Bank of India in Chicago

A4: An alternative for Northwestern university employees might be First Northern Credit Unions

→ More information can be found here:
http://www.fncu.org/pages/eligibility.html
http://offices.northwestern.edu/detail/205

NOTE: You can find out more about the difference between Credit Unions and banks here:
http://www.wisebread.com/credit-unions-vs-banks-whats-the-difference

Q: Can I pay my monthly rent online or is it “check only”

A: That depends on your landlord or the building management. In case a check is required, ask your bank whether a check can be sent automatically (Check Payment) through your online banking account.

Q: Can I use the debit card in my home country without any additional fees?

A: Apparently, this works with bank of America and the cash group banks in e.g. Germany (but no guarantee, ask your banks to make sure)

Q: What kind of credit cards can I get without credit history?

A1: USbank is probably the best choice for an initial credit card to start building your credit history.

A2: Other banks: This depends on the bank. You should be eligible for a so-called secured credit card. You pay in advance the credit limit on this card. For more information and in order to make yourself familiar with the different kinds of credit cards (CC) you can check out the link below. You can also search for CCs at your bank.

→ Learn the purpose of a secure credit card: http://www.creditcards.com/secured-credit-cards.php

Q: What are the options available for Money transfer from US to your country?

A: Wire transfer → Fee depends on your bank. Some banks may have partner institutions in your home country and the fee might be cheaper. Ask your bank.

http://www.myfico.com/CreditEducation/articles/

Q: How long does it take to build a credit history?

→ For more information visit: http://www.myfico.com/crediteducation/improveyourscore.aspx
   MyFico- community forum may also provide a lot of helpful information

Q: Where can I look up my credit history/credit report?
A: The three nationwide consumer credit reporting companies –Equifax, Experian and Transunion- are required by law to provide a free credit report every 12 months upon request.

→ More information and how to request a credit report can be found here
   https://www.annualcreditreport.com/index.action

Q: Where can I look up my credit scores?
A1: MyFico is the most popular and frequently used module but it charges a fee for credit score information → http://www.myfico.com
A2: There are two banks that offer free credit scores though on their monthly bills

→ Alternative, free service: Credit Karma is kind of a simulator of your credit score and is based on the information that Trans Union has on your accounts at that time. It likely does not reflect your real (fico) score → https://www.creditkarma.com/

Housing Opportunities and Tips

You can also refer to Check the following listings for availability

- Padmapper: https://www.padmapper.com
- The Chicago Tribune
- The Chicago Sun-Times:

Q: Can I rent an apartment without credit history?

A: This will be easier close to the campus (e.g. Evanston) because people are more used to international students/postdocs that don’t have a credit history.

Q: Is a background check (check of your credit history) required for getting an apartment?

A: In some areas you might be asked to pay a fee in order to do the background check. Without credit history the background check is useless as well as the fee but your application might not be accepted without it.

A: Please follow this link to the website of the international office at Northwestern University: http://www.northwestern.edu/international/forms/form-library/visitor-forms.html
Q: How does it work to extend my OPT visa when I graduated from another school but work as a postdoc at Northwestern University?

A: Contact your immigration sponsor at your previous school. (for most institutions it would be in the form of an International Student Advisor within the International Student and Scholar Services Office or the International Office).

Q: How long does it take to get the forms for visa (J1, H1B) extension?

A: According to one source, the McCormick service center, it takes departments anywhere from a week to a month or more, depending on the time of year and the department. Through fall it tends to take a little longer as there are more requests made during that time. It will take the department at least a month to get the documents ready to send to the IO for processing.

→ For McCormick school of Engineering please follow the link below to get an overview
http://www.mccormick.northwestern.edu/servicecenter/researchappointments/index.php

Q: How much is the fee for faster handling?

A: For premium processing an H-1B case, the current fee is $1,225. Please check www.uscis.gov for the official fee amounts as they are subject to change. The J-1 does not have a premium processing option.

→ Alternative source:
http://www.mccormick.northwestern.edu/servicecenter/researchappointments/index.php

Q: How can I adjust/change my visa status?

A: To change your status, you would coordinate with your department and the IO. Depending on your current visa status and the status you are changing to, the process can vary.

Q: Are there situations where it makes sense to change my visa status?

A: Yes, if the job changes enough to warrant a visa status change. For example, if you are on a J1 visa and are offered a staff or tenure-track faculty position you must change to an H-1B. Those positions aren’t eligible for a J-1 visa status.
Q: When can I get subjected to 212(e) (two year of home-country physical residency requirement)?

A: You are subjected when one of the following criteria applies:

Car insurance:

- Liability Insurance: Most important coverage and required by law,
  Function: covers damage or injury that the driver causes to someone else. If a driver has an older car that is not worth much, then this insurance is usually sufficient.

- Collision and Comprehensive (theft) coverage:
  Function: covers the driver's vehicle if it were stolen or if they were in an accident that was their fault (if it's the other driver's fault, then that driver's liability insurance would cover the damage)

- Uninsured motorists: in case the person who hits you is not insured

- Premium = Cost of insurance → determined mostly by the age of the driver, their driving record (whether they have any past tickets/accidents) and the type of car (this only affects collision and comprehensive coverage).

- Deductible: Out-of-pocket for any claim on the insurance → Once can usually choose a deductible anywhere from $1,500 down to $0. The lower the deductible the higher the cost of the insurance (premium), because the company knows that good, responsible drivers choose higher deductibles knowing that they have lower odds of using the insurance.

Q: What funding resources are available for postdocs?

A: For detailed information see career resources for postdocs
http://www.tgs.northwestern.edu/resources-for/postdocs/career-resources/find-funding.html

NOTE: There are restrictions for non-citizen applicants!!!
V. Northwestern University Benefits Programs

Eligibility

The eligibility for Northwestern University benefits depends on several parameters. For detailed information refer to Office of Human Resource/Benefits Eligibility:
http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/eligibility/

Alternatively, when you are already in the system:
- Log into the Faculty and Staff Information system (FASIS), go to Self Service/My appointment and Salary information/Appointment Overview: → https://nuhr.northwestern.edu/
- Refer to the office of postdoctoral affairs → http://www.tgs.northwestern.edu/resources-for/postdocs/index.html

One parameter for benefit eligibility (and the type of appointment) is the source of funding. Some examples are listed below:

Postdoc 100% funded by a PI's NSF or NIH grant → eligible for benefits
→ http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/eligibility/#postdocFellows

NRSA postdoctoral scholars
- individual NRSA fellowship
- NRSA training grant
→ http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/eligibility/#nrsaPostdocFellows http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/health-plans/non-employee-postdoc-scholars.html

Visiting Postdoctoral Fellows (i.e. funded by own/foreign government)
→ http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/eligibility/#visitingScholars

NOTE 1: Visiting postdoctoral fellows are not eligible for University’s benefit plans. Clarify with Risk Management if the benefits (i.e. health insurance) included in your fellowship match Northwestern University requirements if not: You have to obtain benefits (health insurance) through Risk Management → http://www.northwestern.edu/risk/
→ ask regarding dental insurance

Exceptions might apply though: If Northwestern University receives the money from the funding agency – meaning the salary goes through Northwestern University - one might be eligible for Northwestern benefits.

Important: Consult Payroll and Benefits in this case to find out whether you are eligible.
NOTE 2: Under certain circumstances a Postdoc can receive funding from different sources at the same time. If that is the case, consult Payroll and Benefits to find out whether you are eligible for Northwestern Benefit plans!!

Q: Will I lose my health/dental/vision and other health and retirement related benefits provided by Northwestern when I directly receive funding/fellowship that provides my own salary?

   A: You have to find out whether the funding flows through Northwestern University payroll or whether the money is paid directly to your bank account.
   Best thing to do: Consult Payroll and Benefits

Q: Are fellowships/stipends taxable?

   A: That likely depends on the fellowship/stipend and should be mentioned in their guidelines or ➔ Contact Payroll

Leave of absence policy:
Source: Office of Postdoctoral affairs

The majority of Northwestern postdocs are employees and thus follow the University leave policy:
http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/policies-forms/policies-procedures/absence-from-work/leave-of-absence/index.html.

Depending on the nature of the leave, it is handled by the Office of Human Resources or the Hartford (third party vendor that can handle employee health info).
Generally, this is 6 weeks of paid, medical maternity leave, 8 weeks in the case of a C-section.

if longer leave is needed due to medical complications, it is handled by the Hartford in partnership with HR.

Additionally, the standard FMLA job protection policies apply after the paid leave times are exhausted (this is the same for following maternity leave, family care leave, or certain other types of leaves of absence).

The slight exception to this group is NRSA-funded, non-employee postdocs (Training Grant or Individual Fellowships), they follow the NIH leave policies:

NOTE: This is still a paid, parental leave for 60 calendar days/8 weeks.
Maternity leave policy:
http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/policies-forms/policies-procedures/absence-from-work/leave-of-absence/maternity-leave.html

Vacation Time:

Sick Time:
http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/policies-forms/policies-procedures/absence-from-work/ist-est-policy.html

NOTE: Northwestern employees have to record their vacation, sick, and personal floating holiday time off in the Kronos Time Entry System http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/current-employees/using-kronos-time-entry/

Q: What happens when my appointment ends and I didn’t take all vacation days?
A: See section 6.4 in staff handbook:
